SEWA Consulting, s.r.o.

Martin 18.11.2003

Dear company

This our standpoint related to the selection of the heating method and heating technology, has been elaborated subject to the company SEWA Consulting, s.r.o. request. In course of the summer 2003 there was tender for the supplier of the heating system for the production hall – part Lisovňa.

We have decided for the technical solution, recommended by the company SEWA Consulting for its lower investment and operational costs. Comparison with other proposals of the heating systems has definitely resulted in favour of the light infrared radiators.

The selected heating system has proved to be suitable in course of the test period. After the recent heating period we consider to reconstruct completely the central heating of our company along with the gas supply system implementation.
